Somewhere Unique - An Escape for 2 in the Hunter

May 23, 2008

When was the last time you enjoyed a romantic break with your partner? An accommodation property has recently opened near the historic village of Wollombi in the New South Wales Hunter Valley, offering couples-only retreats, announced Melanie Morschel, owner of Somewhere Unique.

With an emphasis on privacy, Somewhere Unique is located on a 20-acre property and is a wonderful setting for a romantic getaway, relaxing holiday, weekend break or for those who wish to escape life's hectic pace and relax in beautiful accommodation.

"With our busy lifestyles, couples spend too little quality time together," said Melanie. Somewhere Unique offers two contemporary architect-designed retreats in a tranquil bushland setting, strategically placed to ensure privacy for each couple.

The retreats at Somewhere Unique have been rated 4.5 Stars by AAA Tourism, and are also Green Star accredited, for those looking for an environmentally friendly destination.

Each retreat enjoys a northerly aspect with valley views, and features high quality fixtures and fittings, king-size bed, two-person soaker bath, reverse cycle air-conditioning, a home theatre system, gas log fireplace, and private deck.

"What a beautiful retreat you have created," said Christine, a recent guest at Somewhere Unique. "We are very impressed with the high quality and attention to detail. It has far exceeded our high expectations. Congratulations on providing such an amazing, relaxing, beautiful, private hideaway. We will definitely be back again."

The Hunter Valley is located only two hours from Sydney, and offers a range of activities including: wine tasting, horse riding, hot air ballooning, art galleries, and sampling regional produce.
