Somewhere Unique

In recognition of the efforts to raise funds for Greenfleet throughout June 2014 in celebration of World Environment Day.

Your support and donations are helping to fight climate change by restoring native forests in Australia - providing habitat for native wildlife, reducing salinity and erosion, improving water quality and investing in

Thank you for your support of Greenfleet, Australia's most respected source of biodiverse native carbon offsets.

* This number of trees is a reasonable estimate of the number of trees required to be initially planted to sequester the total quantity of carbon purchased and takes into account that not all trees initially planted will survive due to the natural survival rate of trees. Accordingly, trees that do not survive following initial plantation may not necessarily be replanted. Greenfleet's commitment to recapture carbon on behalf of our supporters involves the management of native forests across all our planting sites. Greenfleet's forest pool is forecast to meet its overall carbon commitments to supporters
